

Let's do takeout

Here's how to tell your neighbors you're open for business

While your customers are staying safe at home, they're looking for good food options from neighborhood restaurants. We can help you get the word out — quickly and affordably.

Here are three easy website options we can help with — plus a way to drive people to your site.

- A simple, one-page website to keep your customers updated. Promote your offerings, hours, takeout and/or delivery options. Site includes locator map, downloadable menu, links to your social media pages and to other takeout services.
- A 3-page, ecommerce website that your customers can order from. Make it easy for people to browse your menu and order and pay directly from your site. Include links, images, interactive menu. Simple to update as things change.
- Superpowers added to your existing website. If you've already got a good website, great. Now let's add ecommerce functionality so your diners can browse your menu, order and pay directly from the site.

Once your site is ready to go, spread the word to your prospective customers.

- A digital campaign to attract people to your site. Your ads will be delivered just to people in your neighborhood as they browse their favorite sites across the web. Just specify a radius of your business, zip code(s) or another target area.

Let's talk about your site and campaign. We can get you up and live in just days!
